

Finexsi joins the VRG network of experts to support its clients internationally

Paris, New York, May 11, 2026

Finexsi, an independent financial advisory and valuation firm, announces that it has joined the international network of experts Valuation Research Global (VRG), becoming its exclusive partner in France.

A strategic milestone in Finexsi's international expansion

By joining VRG, a leading international valuation and advisory network, Finexsi is taking a pivotal step in its development and reaffirming its commitment to supporting clients in increasingly complex and international transactions.

Finexsi is thus joining a network of independent experts founded in 1995, comprising more than 1,500 professionals across its member firms, all sharing the same high standards of technical expertise, independence, and quality of execution.

This partnership enables Finexsi to strengthen its capacity to handle international projects by leveraging a proven global platform, particularly for valuation, internal investigation, and litigation engagements.

In practical terms, this involves mobilizing local expertise across multiple jurisdictions while ensuring global coordination of engagements. This model, based on a single point of contact and local execution, is a key asset for effectively supporting clients in transactions involving multiple jurisdictions.

A convergence of values and expertise

Finexsi and VRG share the same approach based on technical excellence, integrity, and independence. This convergence forms the foundation of a lasting collaboration, serving a client base of companies, investors, and institutions operating in sensitive and complex environments.

"Joining VRG, the leading international network in our field, marks a major milestone for Finexsi. For several years, we have been considering the best way to strengthen our international support for clients. We are convinced we have found the right approach with this network of local partners who share the same standards of independence and excellence," states Olivier Péronnet, founding partner of Finexsi.

“We are delighted to welcome Finexsi to the VRG network as our exclusive partner for France. Their recognized expertise and market position in France are major assets for our members and for our collective development ,” adds Chris Mellen, Senior Managing Director, VRG U.S.
